

OUR PTA PRACTICE

Appleton Luff is a specialty law firm focusing on issues of international trade, arbitration, investment, and public international law. The firm operates as separately incorporated law offices located in Brussels, Geneva, Kampala, Seattle, Singapore, Warsaw and Washington, D.C. Our attorneys and professionals have advised governments and companies on all aspects of preferential trading agreements (PTAs) in various forms (bilateral, regional and mega-regional). This includes feasibility studies, negotiations, advocacy, drafting, implementation, training, and compliance aspects of PTAs involving legal, economic and public affairs. Combined with our experience in WTO matters, our firm provides practical advice in dealing with complex PTA issues.
